

Strategic Model for Driving Organizational Performance

This model shows how an organization's business strategy and objectives and people strategy work together to drive employee engagement and organizational performance.

